

City Guides x Emilie Meinadier Consulting

Paris Fashion Week Bulletin

Fall 2018

Eat & Drink

Double Dragon

ASIAN

Tatiana Levha and her sister Katia, of fave Paris bistro Le Servan, just a little further down Rue Saint-Maur, have opened a second table dedicated to the delights of Pan-Asian cuisine. Chef Antoine Villard fires up the wok and steamers from an open kitchen and turns out a generous set menu at lunch, then à la carte at night, hitting up all the faves: hot and cold noodles, rice bowls, dumplings, salads, spring rolls... and plenty of spice!

52 rue Saint-Maur, 75011 | @doubledragon_paris

Girafe

SEAFOOD / TERRACE / VIEW

A racy new destination from the team behind Monsieur Bleu and Louou, inside the Cité de l'Architecture. Decorated by designer of the moment Joseph Dirand, it's a glamorous celebration of the 1930s, mixing up cream banquettes, a marble bar and tropical plants. From the devastating terrace overlooking the Eiffel Tower, enjoy a fresh seafood platter, ceviché, sushi, or turbot from the briny menu.

Palais de Chaillot, 1 place du Trocadéro, 75016 | www.girafeparis.com

Cravan

BAR / BREAKFAST / COCKTAILS / COFFEE / TERRACE

Inside a splendid building by Art Nouveau innovator Hector Guimard, out in the depths of the 16th arrondissement, you'll find this sophisticated cocktail and coffee bar that also offers a creative all-day bar menu, maybe fresh asparagus or a perfect Ajitsuke Tamago egg, then chocolate mousse or an Eton mess for dessert. Coffee is from local roasters Hexagone and the cocktails are world class.

17 rue Jean de la Fontaine, 75016 | @cravanparis

Joia

COCKTAILS / MODERN EURO

While her St-Germain flagship gets a facelift, Michelin-starred chef Hélène Darroze launches this relaxed Right Bank spot. Start with a house cocktail upstairs, then share a dish – beef ribs, or slow-cooked lamb neck – from a menu that reconciles simplicity and technique, prepared from a bustling open kitchen.

39 rue des Jeuneurs, 75002 | www.joiahelenedarroze.com

Maison Plisson 2

BREAD / BREAKFAST / CHEESE / DELI / ORGANIC / TAKE AWAY / TERRACE

The Marais gourmet grocer has opened this second HQ, almost triple the size of the original, and spread over 3 floors. You'll find a jumble of take-away counters selling fresh fruit & veg, cheese, bread & cakes, meat, wine, plus deli & grocery items. The restaurant serves a fresh and simple all-day menu.

35 Place du Marché Saint-Honoré, 75001 | lamaisonplisson.com

Beaupassage

COFFEE / BREAD / STEAK / MODERN FRENCH / TAKE AWAY / TERRACE

NB epicureans and flâneurs: there are some very big foodie names (Yannick Alléno, Pierre Hermé, Anne-Sophie Pic, Thierry Marx...) attached to this sprawling, super-ambitious new Left Bank quarter, where chic food court meets luxe shopping arcade meets gallery and gym.

53-57 rue de Grenelle, 75006 | beaupassage.fr

Shopping

Isabel Marant Saint Honoré

Designed by the house's architecture studio in collaboration with young designers and craftsmen with a passion for the art of contrast, the house's 30th shop and its 5th Parisian address is located on Rue Saint-Honoré, next to Guerlain, Goyard, and the new Louis Vuitton flagship. The elegant Haussmannian architecture is complemented by Berber sofas, plants, hand-cut wood & cork tables. In addition to the Isabel Marant and Etoile collections, you can also browse the stylish new men's collection.

354 rue Saint Honoré, 75001 | www.isabelmarant.com

JM Weston

Explore this gorgeous new flagship's suite of elegant rooms, decorated like a classic Parisian apartment by decorator of the moment Joseph Dirand who was inspired by the house's long history. (The French luxury shoemaker's stylish collections are all still handcrafted in Limoges btw.) The store includes a dedicated room for women's models, a space dedicated to leather care, and a customisation booth. And the fun, first capsule "Papiers" by new creative director Olivier Saillard is sold exclusively here.

55 avenue des Champs-Élysées, 75008 | www.jmweston.com

Byredo

Cult Scandi perfumer is set to open a Paris flagship during Fashion Week, hot on the heels of its Soho London store opening. Opposite the Saint Roch church, the big corner site will showcase Byredo's range of scents, body and hand care, and the home fragrances, plus the collection of leather bags and wallets they launched last year. Swedish architect and designer Christian Halleröd has worked on the houses four retail spaces, bringing a signature sleek approach, where the focus is on the details.

199 rue Saint-Honoré, 75001 | byredo.eu

What's On

Jean-Michel Basquiat - Egon Schiele

FONDATION VUITTON

Parallel exhibitions of two painters linked by their fascinating intensity and brief, meteoric lives: Egon Schiele (1890-1918) and Jean-Michel Basquiat (1960-1988). With a selection of 250 pieces selected from their exceptional body of work, the Fondation Louis Vuitton celebrates the itineraries of two virtuoso artists who, says Suzanne Pagé, artistic director of the Foundation, "saw themselves as prophets of art."

Until 14 Jan | www.fondationlouisvuitton.fr

Azzedine Alaïa

ASSOCIATION AZZEDINE ALAÏA

A second homage to the departed couturier again presented in his Marais HQ and curated by Olivier Saillard. "The Secret Alchemy of a Collection" dissects Alaïa's summer 92 collection, where his fascination with Madame de Pompadour and with the sovereignty of a womanly woman collided. But the frills and lace were in contemporary Alaïa style, with the signature body hugging silhouettes.

Until 6 Jan | www.alaia.fr

Franz West

CENTRE POMPIDOU

An exuberant celebration of the artist's work in which he's recognised as much for his exceptional capacity for artistic invention as for his irreverent and sarcastic approach. West redefined sculpture as it pertains to the body, the beholder and language. Prefiguring the trash art of the 1990s, he constantly flipped the notions of ugliness and beauty, repulsion and attraction.

Until 10 Dec | www.centrepompidou.fr

GogoParis : the essential Paris edit

Gogo City Guides is a digitally driven publishing company editing new-generation guides to London and Paris. Le Monde call us "Arty, quirky & sharp." Our tight edit takes you to the heart of the city, to the people and places that are defining Paris's unique character today. Explore new spots, but also historic addresses that helped shape the soul of Paris, and continue to matter. We work at channelling something local, and uniquely Parisian. Perfect for Fashion Week!

Find the GogoParis app on the AppStore.

@_gogoparis | www.gogocityguides.com