Clover Grill

COCKTAILS / MODERN EURO / STEAK

A new destination on the hot Les Halles foodie strip Rue Bailleul (also home to Daniel Rose's Spring and Chez la Vieille, plus Racines 2). Jean-François Piège's swanky and upbeat new restaurant is dedicated to fish and meat, especially beef, grilled over charcoal or roasted on a rotisserie. There's excellent cocktails too. 6 rue Bailleul, 1st | 01.40.41.59.59 | 6.30-11pm. Closed Sun | www.clover-grill.com

Chez La Vieille

CLASSIC FRENCH / NON-STOP

Fresh from the success of Le Coucou in NYC, chef Daniel Rose has opened his third table in Paris, taking over a mythic Les Halles restaurant. Pull up a stool at the zinc counter and sample the short menu of French bistro classics, such as herring & potato or veal blanquette, washed down with plenty of good wines by the glass, or venture upstairs for a more formal setting. And his other more formal Paris addresses Spring and La Bourse & La Vie should not be forgotten! 1 rue Bailleul, 1st | Noon-midnight. Closed Sun & Mon | 01.42.60.15.78 | www.chezlavielle.fr

Bonhomie

Achille

MODERN EURO

Serial restaurant resuscitator Pierre Jancou (Vivant, Racines...) is back with this new address, the latest incarnation of his commitment to 'living' wine and nourishing food. Chef-poet Svante Forstorp presides the (open) kitchen, from where he's turning out more of the nuanced cooking that earned him so many fans at Vivant Cave. 43 rue Servan, 11th | 01.48.06.54.59 | 7-11pm. Closed Sun, Mon.

Passerini

ITALIAN

Chef Giovanni Passerini's new table pares things down to the essential – great produce, precise cooking, subtle flavours – on a menu that celebrates both traditional Italian dishes and more creative recipes. Generous portions of fish and meat for tables of 2, 4 or 6 encourage sharing.

65 rue Traversière, 12th | 01.43.42.27.56 | Lunch, Wed-Sat; dinner Tue-Fri | www.passerini.paris

What's On

Tenue Correcte Exigée

MUSÉE DES ARTS DÉCORATIFS

Women in trousers or tuxedos, men in skirts, miniskirts, jeans... All challenged vestimentary norms and were savagely criticised, even banned when they first appeared. This exhibition revisits the scandals that have marked the great turning points in fashion history, from the 14th century to today. Featuring more than 400 garments and accessories, portraits, caricatures and objects, it explores the liberties taken with dress codes and how they breached moral values of the day.

Until 23 April | www.lesartsdecoratifs.fr

François Morellet

MONNAIE DE PARIS

A new celebration of the great French abstract artist, who passed away last year, emphasizing his sculptural works and setting up an extraordinary dialogue between the artist's vision and the Centre Pompidou's collection, the extravagant architecture of the Monnaie de Paris and the river Seine below. The exhibition is also the occasion to create a vertical sculpture park adjacent to the Monnaie de Paris.

Until 21 May | www.monnaieedeparis.fr

Cy Twombly

CENTRE POMPIDOU

A major retrospective of the work of the American artist covers his entire career in a chronological circuit of some 140 paintings, sculptures, drawings and photographs, providing a clear picture of an extraordinarily rich body of work which is both intellectual and sensual. The selection includes many of Twombly's iconic works, several of them never previously exhibited in France.

* LAST DAYS * Icons of Modern Art: The Shchukin Collection, at La Fondation Vuitton

Closing Sun 5 March. This exhibition pays tribute to Sergei Shchukin, the visionary Russian collector of French modern art. His friendship with celebrated artists like Henri Matisse heavily influenced the formation of his collection, one of the most radical of its time. Divided between the Pushkin Museum in Moscow and the Hermitage Museum in St Petersburg, the works are brought together for the first time outside of Russia. From 27 Feb to 5 March, the exhibition will be open 7 days a week from 7am to 11pm, and until 1am on Sat 4 March. www.fondationlouisvuitton.fr
