Celine Haute Parfumerie

A first boutique – a collage of marble, mirror, and Modernist art and furniture – for Celine's new collection of 'haute parfumerie' created by Hedi Slimane. The unisex scents pick up on the designer's own memories and obsessions, making for a very personal 'olfactory journal.'

La Manufacture

At the intersection of design and fashion, this new brand from Robert Acouri, Luca Nichetto and Milena Laquale confronts French allure with the best Italian craftsmanship. Renowned international designers, from Oki Sato to Ben Gorham, (re)interpret French art de vivre.

The Marc Jacobs

Remember the Marc by Marc Jacobs and Bookmarc stores on the Place du Marché Saint-Honoré? If so, you might be as excited as we are to visit the first shop outside the US for Jacobs' new diffusion line, returning the brand's fun and colourful, high-low fashion mash-up to Paris.

Art & Culture

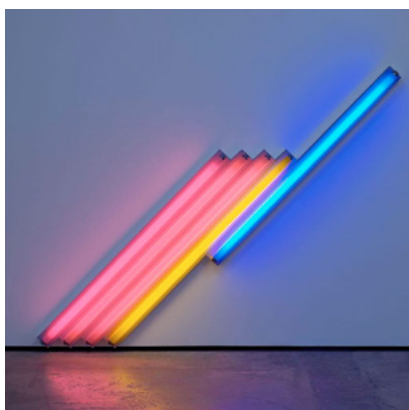

Virgil Abloh

GALERIE KREO

The AD of Menswear at Louis Vuitton presents his design collection Efflorescence – consisting of tables, consoles, seats, vases, and mirrors. As with his fashion designs, it's no longer a question of "high" and "low," of legitimacy, of avant-garde, or of being an outsider...

Until 10 April | 31 rue Dauphine, 75006 | www.galeriekreo.com

Dan Flavin

DAVID ZWIRNER

For its second show, David Zwirner's new Paris gallery presents this major retrospective that demonstrates the breadth of formal and conceptual variation Flavin was able to achieve with fluorescent light; a pioneering blurring of painting, sculpture and architecture.

Until 1 Feb | 108 rue Vieille-du-Temple, 75003 | www.davidzwirner.com

Kiki Smith

MONNAIE DE PARIS

From microscopic elements to cosmic systems, the American artist explores the relationship between different species and scales, seeking out the harmony that unites us with nature and the universe. And sadly, this show will be the Monnaie's last contemporary art exhibition!

Until 9 Feb | 11 quai de Conti, 75006 | www.monnaiedeparis.fr

Eat & Drink

Pouliche

MODERN EURO

After having made her way up the ranks alongside the best (Alléno, Piège), the chef and rising star Amandine Chaignot affirms her ambition by opening a first restaurant, in the shabby-chic 10th district. The cocktail menu puts you in the mood for a delicious promenade through a menu as refined, colourful and joyful as the chef, and which pays special attention to the joys of veggies. 11 rue d'Enghien, 75010 | 01 45 89 07 56 | www.poulicheparis.com

Café A.P.C.

COFFEE SHOP

A winter pop-up café serving coffee with A.P.C.'s very own blend, the Moka. Founder Jean Toutou explains: "There won't be a choice... Not having one creates a kind of peace of mind." You'll also discover a capsule collection of cool, coffee inspired accessories including a tote bag and a thermos, and the label's A.P.C. Archives retrospective exhibition. Joyce Gallery, 168 Galerie de Valois, 75001 | www.apc.fr

PavYllon

MODERN EURO

Chef Yannick Alléno has opened this more affordable counter inside his Champs-Élysées gastro flagship, the Pavillon Ledoyen. A sinuous zinc bar provides front-row views over the ballet in the kitchen where the dishes are a modern mash-up of influences, from Japan to Scandinavia. The cherry on the cake? The dining room opens onto a lush patio in the garden. 8 ave Dutuit, 75008 | 01 53 05 10 10 | www.yannick-alleno.com

Bambino

GRILL / WINE BAR

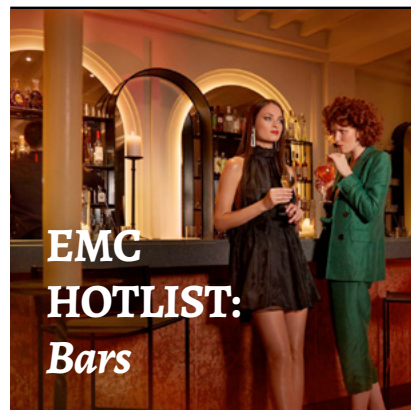

The mastermind behind Faggio, Fabien has opened his new place, a fusion of audio bar, restaurant, natural wine mecca and disco. The kitchen sends out sharing plates prepared in the wood fired oven, maybe mackerel and herbs, or calzone. A wall of vinyl and a custom, cutting-edge sound system provide the backdrop to the lo-fi space focused on good times and grooves. 25 rue Saint-Sébastien, 75011 | No reservations | @bambino_paris

Mordu

MODERN EURO

An elegant spot under the arcades of the Saint-Germain market with the creative young troublemaker Baptiste Trudel (ex-Yard) in the kitchen. On his modern menu, he mixes up beautifully executed French classics – hare à la royal, onion soup – with recipes inspired by more exotic shores. There's a serious wine list too. 2 rue Félibien, 75006 | 01 42 39 89 27 | www.mordu.paris
